Undergraduate 2009-2010 Catalog

PURPOSE OF THE CATALOG

The Undergraduate Catalog is the official source of the university's undergraduate academic programs, courses, policies, and procedures. The catalog should be used as a guide in planning a course of study and in meeting requirements for graduation. See the Table of Contents and Index for an overview of the information provided.

The course offerings and requirements of the catalog are subject to change without notice and revision. This catalog is not intended to constitute a contract between the student and the institution.

Each semester a Timetable of Classes is available that will be offered during the semester, as well as a Course Schedule that lists courses offered every semester.

STUDENT RIGHTS AND RESPONSIBILITIES

^Top

By registering at the university, the student neither loses the rights nor escapes the duties of a citizen. Enjoying greater opportunities than the average citizen, the university student has greater responsibilities. Each student's personal life should be conducted in a context of mutual regard for the rights and privileges of others. It is further expected that students will demonstrate respect for the law and for the necessity of orderly conduct in the affairs of the community.

Students are responsible for being fully acquainted with the university catalog, handbook, and other regulations pertaining to students and for complying with them in the interest of an orderly and productive community. The student handbook, Hilltopics, is published and distributed annually and is also available online at the Dean of Students' website (<http://dos.utk.edu/hilltopics>) so that students are aware of the university Standards of Conduct and all
